Madam:

The Children's Literature Association of the Philippines, Inc. (CLAPI) is a non-stock, non-profit organization dedicated to develop, enhance and promote reading habits, and provide training to teachers (English/Filipino), (school/hub librarians), reading enthusiasts and early childhood practitioners. Founded in 1965, its main goal is to make children's literature come alive through creative energy, enthusiasm and imagination – creating and bringing library works to children, youth and lovers of literature.

On April 30- May 2, 2018, the association will be holding its annual seminar – workshop in the Promotion of Reading with the theme "Reading is For All, Part II". This will be held at Teachers Camp, Baguio City in partnership with the Dep Ed Library Hub Project of Luzon. Knowing your deep concern in Reading, we would like to request your good office to join us and be one of our partners in this very laudable activity. The association has taken the initiative to draft its tentative program of activities with you as the keynote speaker on its opening ceremonies on April 30, 2018, at 9:00 in the morning.

At the end of the 3 day seminar – workshop, the participants are expected to : 1) develop the culture of reading with a firm foundation on the love for reading; 2) acquire the art of teaching reading using the student's individual styles; 3) appreciate the use of storytelling as a means of reading promotion in the classroom, school libraries and the division library hubs; 4) write stories for children using the local indigenous materials; 5) recognize the school administrators as the prime mover in the promotion of reading, and lastly; 6) know the important role of school libraries and division library hubs in the promotion of reading and in the implementation of the k-12 program.
