Dear Dr Martin:

The National Book Development Board (NBDB), an attached agency of the Department of Education (DepEd), is the leading catalyst for building a culture of reading, providing children quality learning resources, and continuously promoting the growth of the local book publishing industry by developing our various stakeholders through capacity-building initiatives in the regions.

In line with this, the NBDB will conduct Storytelling and Book Fair at the University of the Philippines Baguio City on 16 November 2018, 8:00 am -4:00 pm.

It will be our pleasure to have some participants from your institution to take part in the event. Teachers, librarians and students are welcome to attend. There will be storytelling sessions and short talks on writing to inspire the young minds to become lifetime readers and also, develop their skills in telling their own stories.

This event is free and is part of our advocacy to develop the reading culture and authorship among Filipinos in the country.
