Dear Superintendent Martin,

The Intellectual Property Office of the Philippines (IPOPHL) would like to visit the secondary schools in Baguio City that have become part of the IPOPHL Young IP Advocates (YIPA) members in 2019. Through your permission in the DepEd Baguio City and the assistance of former DepEd Science Supervisor, Dr. Jacqueline Lampac, we were able to gather 16 schools under DepEd Baguio City. We would like to personally meet with the YIPA advisers and their school officials or representatives from December 5 to 7, 2022, so we can further discuss the YIPA program and get feedback/updates on what IP advocacies have been done in their respective schools since then.

Attached is our request letter and the list of the 16 schools under Baguio City DepEd.

Thank you very much and we hope for your positive response to our request.

Sincerely,

Emmelina

Dear Superintendent Martin:

The Intellectual Property Office of the Philippines (IPOP HL) would like to thank you for the full support that you extended to the Young IP Advocates (YIPA) Program in 2019. The YIPA is an initiative program of IPOP HL to empower students in the secondary level to be more creative and innovative. It also aims to help them imbibe respect for the IP rights of others and value their own creation at school and in the future.

Through the DepEd-Baguio City Division's Memorandum and the efforts of Dr. Jaqueline Lampac, former Science Supervisor, in inviting secondary schools to the IP Youth Camp in Baguio City last September 5-6, 2019, IPOP HL was able to bring together 17 schools with a total of 35 students inducted as Young IP Advocates. In the two-day camp, the students had interactive sessions of learning and appreciating the importance and the value of respecting IP. As a culminating activity, the students, together with their advisers, had the opportunity to craft and present their Commitments on how they can promote IP in their respective schools.

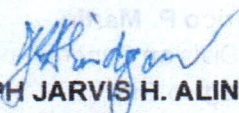

Unfortunately, with the global COVID-19 situation, the YIPA program had been pushed back. As we now go back to normal and moving forward, IPOP HL aims to sustain the program by encouraging the YIPA member schools to actively advocate and create an IP culture in their respective schools. IPOP HL can assist the schools in creating an IP Club and in developing their IP policy in the coming years, so that in time, these YIPA member schools will be able to file their intellectual property creations from their research outputs.

In this regard, may we once again seek your assistance by endorsing our visit to the YIPA member schools from December 5 to 7, 2022. We hope to meet the YIPA advisers and school officials or their representatives and discuss the YIPA program and get their updates and plans on the IP advocacy in their respective schools. Ms. Emms Masanque, IPOP HL YIPA Project Manager, will directly coordinate with your office on this request.

Attached is the list of the YIPA member schools Baguio Chapter.

Thank you and we hope to receive a positive response from you in this undertaking.

Sincerely,

RALPH JARVIS H. ALINDOGAN
Director III, DITTB

Attention: Dr. Loid Mangaray, Science Supervisor

Dear Superintendent Martin,

The Intellectual Property Office of the Philippines (IPOPHL) would like to thank you for the full support that you extended to the Young IP Advocates (YIPA) Program in 2018. The YIPA is an initiative program of IPOPHL to empower students in the secondary level to be more creative and innovative. It also aims to help them imbibing respect for the IP rights of others and value their own creation of school and in the future.

Through the DepEd-BaguiO City Division's Mentorship and the efforts of Dr. Loid Mangaray, former Science Supervisor, in inviting secondary schools to the YIPA Youth Camp in Baguio City last September 8-9, 2019, IPOPHL was able to bring together 17 schools with a total of 50 students inducted as Young IP Advocates. In the two-day camp, the students had interactive sessions of learning and appreciating the importance and the value of respecting IP. As a culminating activity, the students, together with their advisers, had the opportunity to craft and present their Commitments on how they can promote IP in their respective schools.

Unfortunately, with the global COVID-19 situation, the YIPA program had been pushed back. As we now go back to normal and moving forward, IPOPHL aims to restart the program by encouraging the YIPA member schools to actively advocate and create an IP culture in their respective schools. IPOPHL can assist the schools in creating an IP Club and in developing their IP policy in the coming year, as first in time, these YIPA member schools will be able to file their intellectual property creations from their research outputs.

In this regard, may we once again seek your assistance by elaborating our visit to the YIPA member schools from December 6 to 7, 2022. We hope to meet the YIPA advisers and school officials or their representatives and discuss the YIPA program and get their updates and plans on the IP advocacy in their respective schools. Ma. Emma Masandua, IPOPHL YIPA Project Manager, will directly coordinate with your office on this request.
