Connecting Education and Sustainability: Mobilizing SDGs in Basic Education and Research
DLSU ARCHERS 2023
MAY 25-26, 2023

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

The First De La Salle University Annual Research Congress for High School and Elementary Teachers, Researchers, and Scholars (DLSU ARCHERS) organizers are delighted to invite you to submit an abstract for evaluation. Abstracts must be submitted using the online portal by April 21, 2023. Under this year's theme, "Connecting Education and Sustainability: Mobilizing SDGs in Basic Education and Research," we invite educational or action research outputs from basic education teachers whose studies were anchored on any of the 17 United Nations Sustainable Development Goals. We are also accepting innovative learning plans based on the said theme.

ABSTRACT SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

IMPORTANT DATES:

- Abstract Submission: March 1 - April 21, 2023
Registration: March 20 - May 21, 2023
Notification of Acceptance: May 8-12, 2023
Congress Dates: May 25-26, 2023

- Maximum word count for an abstract proposal is 250-300.
- The educational or action research abstract should contain a short overview of the topic's background, rationale, methodology, findings, and conclusions. A brief description of the Sustainable Development Goal's integration must also be included.
- For the learning plan abstract, a narrative description, including type of activity, purpose, intended audience (including year level of learners), and the SDG targeted in the learning outcomes, is required.
- For the presenter(s), the following information is required: Complete name, highest degree attained, designation, affiliation, and email address.
- Abstract proposals will be evaluated using a double-blind review procedure.
- The review will look at the clarity of content, quality, rigor, and relevance to the SDGs.
- The review committee will reserve the right to decide on accepting your abstract
- Accepted abstracts will be published in the Congress Platform. Congress presenters may also submit their full papers for publication in the Congress Proceedings. Selected papers will also have an opportunity to be published in the Sinaya Journal's special issue on basic education research.
- Please contact Mr. Nathaniel Rey D. Ferrer, Communications Head, at archers@dlsu.edu.ph with any concerns or inquiries.

Re : De La Salle University Annual Research Congress for High School and Elementary Teachers, Researchers, and Scholars (DLSU ARCHERS 2023)

Greetings in St. La Salle!

We are pleased to invite you to the first-ever De La Salle University Annual Research Congress for High School and Elementary Teachers, Researchers, and Scholars (DLSU ARCHERS) to be held virtually on May 25-26, 2023, with the theme "Connecting Education and Sustainability: Mobilizing SDGs in Basic Education and Research."

The congress is an annual convergence of basic education teachers, researchers, and scholars from all over the Philippines as they bring with them research-based ideas and concepts anchored on the 17 United Nations Sustainable Development Goals. The congress draws on expertise from many disciplines, particularly education, science, technology, math, Christian Living, physical education, Filipino, psychology, economics, social science, history of culture, political science, humanities, arts, and information management. The areas of research covered in this congress are respectively diverse. Strategic priorities are highlighted: Education, Research, and Sustainability. The congress envisions research projects that marry innovation with sustainability. It aims to discover solutions today to the problems of tomorrow.

Accepted abstracts will be published in the Congress Platform. Congress presenters may also submit their full papers for publication in the Congress Proceedings. Selected papers will also have an opportunity to be published in the Sinaya Journal's special issue on basic education research.

In addition to the research presentations, the teachers will undergo CPD training. Through this, the participants will have the opportunity to meet and collaborate with different teachers from different schools.

The local and global challenges prompted by the COVID-19 pandemic do not and will not stunt the growth and evolution of the academe and of education in general. It is through the disruptions caused by COVID-19 that a new breed of researchers and research approaches flourish.

Please visit our Official Facebook Page for more details: <https://www.facebook.com/dlsuarchers>. You may also send your queries to the Communications Committee at archers@dlsu.edu.ph.

We are immensely thrilled and cannot wait to welcome you all to this event!
